A Plot to Destroy a Family.

HUDSON, N. Y., January 26th.—A conspiracy to commit the crime of arson and murder has just been brought to light by the arrest of Newton Hoyer, a well known resident of the town of Livingston in this county, who has been apprehended by Justice John H. Overhiser to await further examination. It is claimed that Hoyer is under pecuniary obligations to a considerable amount to Abram Post, his uncle, who resides about three miles from the village of Catskill, Green county, being the same gentleman who was robbed by masked burglars some time ago. For these obligations Post holds notes or other written evidences. In order to destroy them Hoyer conceived a plot which involved the killing of the entire Post family and the destruction of their residence and its contents, including the notes and all evidences of debt. It became necessary to have assistance of other persons in this plot, and Hoyer proceeded to Albany and took into his confidence a man named C. E. Ward, to whom he made known his plans and negotiated for his services. Ward was authorized by Hoyer to employ such other aid as he might require, and a liberal reward was offered for the accomplishment of the work. In accordance with this arrangement two additional roughs were taken into the conspiracy and operations were begun.

Several visits were made by these hired Confederates to the residence of Hoyer in Livingston, and also to points contiguous to Livingston Station on the Hudson River Railroad, where interviews were had, conferences held, and arrangements perfected. In the course of these interviews, Hoyer gave the confederates in detail his proposed plan. He suggested that access should be gained to the residence of Mr. Post in the night time, while the members of the family were asleep. The inmates were to be suffocated by the fumes of brimstone, which was to be burned in the several sleeping apartments occupied by them. After this had been successfully accomplished, kerosene was to be sprinkled in liberal quantities about the interior of the house, a torch applied and the building burned. For reasons unexplained, but believed to be because funds were not supplied as promised, one of the persons employed by Ward withdrew from further connection with the conspiracy, and finally the other. Ward himself weakened, and disclosed the whole plot to Detective Crofts. This gentleman at once informed Detective George Douglas of Albany, who set about preparing a trap to ensnare Hoyer. Clothing himself in the attire of a traveling tramp, Douglas proceeded to Livingston and held an interview with Hoyer. He informed him that he had been substituted in the place of one of the confederates at Albany who had withdrawn from the plan, and was at once taken into Hoyer's confidence and made acquainted with the scheme. Several interviews were had, during one of which Hoyer met Ward by appointment across the bridge at Catskill Villa, where Ward was taken into Hoyer's vehicle and conveyed to a point near enough to the residence of Mr. Post to enable him (Ward) to look over the premises and make himself familiar with the surroundings. Hoyer, of course, not being aware that Ward had given him away. Various sums of money were from time to time paid by him to Ward to cover incidental expenses, and a reward of $500 was promised upon the completion of the crime, providing that the work was effectually performed, the house burned and the inmates destroyed. Upon one of these occasions when money was advanced, the time having been fixed for firing the house, Hoyer furnished a can of kerosene for that purpose. It was, however, deemed inexpedient at that time, and the perpetration of the deed was deferred under some pretext. Matters having thus ripened, and there being no further excuse for delay, it was deemed advisable by Detective Crofts and Douglas to apprehend Hoyer. Accordingly a warrant was sworn out before Justice Overhiser, and Detective Crofts, proceeding to Livingston to-day, arrested Hoyer and brought him to this city. Upon being arrested, the prisoner expressed considerable astonishment; and when made acquainted with the facts in the case, seemed to feel keenly his situation. It is believed that other crimes of considerable magnitude will be traced to him by the detectives, who are very reticent however as to their nature.—N. Y. Tribune.

BENNETT AND THE HERALD.—The departure of Bennett for Europe, it is said, intended to be a starting point for reformation. It is not expected that he will return for a long time—perhaps never. He leaves America as Byron left England, seeking another home. It is now well understood that during the interval between the knock down and the departure, Bennett was concealed in his own mansion on Fifth avenue. The house being connected with the Herald establishment by telegraph, he was enabled to keep up an incessant communication with his down town office.

It is understood that the Herald is placed in the hands of the chief editors who are to pay an annual rent, not less than $75,000 a year. This will leave them a surplus of nearly as much more. The Bennett building on Nassau street will be farmed out in a similar manner. This will give a wide margin for its agents, who ought to clear $5,000 a year by its rental.—N. Y. Corr. Cincinnati Gazette.

A CHILD'S FEAT.—On Saturday afternoon a little child about three years old crept through a third story window of the Occidental Hotel and seated itself on the ledge below. It seemed every moment as if the little one would fall, and a number of men stood below to catch it in case it did. In a short time a large crowd had collected, but the child sat composedly until some one entered the room, and, leaning through the window, rescued it from its perilous position.—S. F. Post.

Direct Mail Route.

The Bidwell Herald, which by the way, is "least but not last," makes an urgent appeal for a direct mail route from Reno to Surprise Valley and Modoc county. It claims that eastern and northern Modoc county would be especially benefitted by such a change, and have inhabitants enough to claim the accommodation as a right. The Herald says that petitions have been circulated freely and largely signed, yet all to no effect. The proposed direct route would be available throughout the year, while the present one is dependent upon the weather clerk to such an extent that the good people of that section find themselves isolated during the winter. The case at present necessitates carrier routes in order to partially satisfy the needs of the community, and even this is found unsatisfactory and irregular. This matter should receive attention and if our citizens can aid these people in obtaining the desired communication with this place they should lend a willing hand. Let the people in that section persevere and they will get, what seems to be their right, a direct mail route to satisfy their needs.

Legislative Correspondence.

CARSON, January 5th.

There are some things going on here, as dull as it may seem.

THE WARDEN BILL.

Which has so far been the bill of the session, passed the Lower House Saturday and came up for reconsideration to-day. As the last resort and only hope of defeating the bill, Mr. Stewart, of Storey, made a very strong effort in support of the resolution to reconsider and was seconded by one convert, whose conscience had gnawed a hole large enough through his judgment to allow him to crawl through and vote contrary to his Saturday's convictions, and I have no doubt but he was prompted by pure unalloyed motives.

MR. HARRIS.

A rising young man of Storey—I mean he often rises; I never see him sit down, but I guess he does, or he could not rise so much—made a very heartrending appeal to the Assembly to support the resolution, but alas, he was doomed to see that his appeal had put the members to sleep, and the speech availed not. He also made an effort to bring Gov. Bradley before the House to vindicate himself of some charge that somebody believed he heard somebody say that the Governor calculated to say, but it was looked upon as a joke and died very easy, and with it went another opportunity to have the Governor bear part of the burdens of

MR. HYMAN.

So, to cover up the whole matter, Mr. Mighels offered a resolution making Hyman a better man than he had ever claimed to be. It was carried, and he walked out as spotless as a leopard. Not wishing to use any partiality, the balance of the Board was accorded the same compliment, and of course, the Governor comes in for his part of the glory, and it was all

UNANIMOUS.

If you hear any member of the lower House cast any reflection on Hyman, Kittrell, Miner, or the Governor, he is giving the lie to his vote, or throwing soot on the coat of whitewash with which they were coated, and so the matter will probably sleep until it is resurrected for electioneering purposes. The boys had considerable fun to-day, caused by one of the coming to present a claim to the Committee on Claims. It was never allowed to reach said Committee, as the debtor paid the amount, and all his friends paid as fast as she came to them, to avoid litigation, as she seemed to have her case in good shape, and proved herself a first-class collector. The officers

FEE BILL

Of Storey county, introduced by Mr. Shultz, sleeps on the table and in all probability is looked upon as one of the things of the past. Westerfield and Comins hit it too hard.

Dances are the order of the evening, one every evening as far ahead as we dare penetrate the future.

YR. WOODLUM BILL

Is a special order for to-morrow, Tuesday, and the Assembly will shed tears as a committee of the whole when the subject is proposed. Eloquence will be the order of the day, and members are already beginning to fortify against the storm to come. The bill will probably die after a short and checkered career, or live an amended life in your good county of Washoe.

But I must rest, for I am getting hungry. It seems to be a chronic state of hunger here with everybody, and although I have passes to three lunch stands, I find it difficult to retain my old weight. You will hear from me again, but not until I have gone down and eaten Frisbie out.

The proposition to build a railroad from Franklin, Idaho, to a point 300 miles north into Montana, submitted to the Montana Legislature by Oliver Ames, E. A. MAGIC POLISH.—Thomas Rounds came into our office this forenoon and observing the dingy appearance of our tin glue pot dragged out a box of magic polish and universal panacea for dirt, grease, stains, etc., and with a small dirty cloth and tobacco juice plus a little of the panacea removed set to on the side of the above mentioned pot and soon produced an immediate change for the better on its surface. He then wanted to try a little on the nose of a man from Carson, but the Carson man had already spent considerable on his nose and refused to be experimented on in that way. A mixture of drinks, he thought, might not have a satisfactory effect. Rounds apologized and glancing at our clothes quietly deposited a quantity of his removum and silently stole down stairs thinking he would get a local.

CONVICTED.—This afternoon Wm. B. Kehew was arraigned before His Honor Judge R., who asked Bill whether he was guilty or not. William said no, and he wanted a jury, which Barlow, surnamed William also, undertook to procure. The jury comprised such men as Dwelly, Bragg, Prescott, Stoddard, Higgins and others. Two lawyers represented each side of the case. The defense held that the J. P. had no jurisdiction, and that the prosecution had not made out a case. The jury thought they had, and on the first ballot brought in a unanimous verdict of guilty. Barlow shed tears of joy saying "I'll give 'em jury trials," and Richardson smiled a ghastly smile as he remanded Kehew to custody. That smile meant 90 days.

MORE COMPLAINT.—Several of our citizens have again complained of the hoodlums and vagrants who now adorn our streets, especially at night time. We think that the officers may devise some means of making these pests uncomfortable. A fresh batch of arrests may be looked for soon.

Death of D. H. Flynn.

Last night at 11:30 D. H. Flynn's spirit took flight, and the body which had suffered for four long weeks was cold in the embrace of death.

Daniel H. Flynn was born in Montreal, Canada, in 1841. After residing there some 14 years he went to Boston and shortly afterwards to New York, where he kept a restaurant. On the breaking out of the rebellion Flynn joined the army, and before leaving the service was promoted to a lieutenant. In 1871 he was married in New York to Miss Katie Kelley, and four years later came to San Francisco, where he was for several months steward in the Russ House. A year ago last June he and his wife came to Reno, and in August started the Capital restaurant, which he run for one year. A few months before closing his restaurant here he started one in Virginia City.

While in Reno it was his misfortune to have one or more disagreements and rows with Geo. Hutton and Frank La Point. Between deceased and the latter a bitter enmity existed and they are reported on several occasions to have threatened each other's life. Towards the latter part of last July Flynn came down from Virginia City and rushing from the train committed an assault upon La Point, after which he fled, but was arrested about a week afterwards and placed in the County Jail. Sometime in September he escaped from jail, but was caught the same day. In October he was tried for assault and fined one dollar and costs, in all amounting to some $199, and for breaking jail he was sentenced to the State Prison for one year.

La Point, who had previous to July committed a similar assault on Flynn, was held at the same session of court for assault, and fined therefor. On the 8th day of January the State Board of Pardons took up Flynn's case, and finding that he had escaped from jail through an opening made by another party, and while he was resting under the simple charge of assault, granted him a pardon. At that time Mrs. Flynn was in San Francisco. Flynn as soon as he was out telegraphed to his wife "I am out. Am going down to-night." A party in Carson sent a telegram to La Point that Flynn was out and would be down that night. Flynn boarded the lightning express at Carson and started for San Francisco. When he arrived here he got out of the cars on the south or left-hand side of the train.

We were informed that it was his intention to see, for a few minutes on business, Walter McGuire, Hank Rhodes and Martin Saunders, and then board the train as it passed in front of Hagerman's store. But when he left the train he was immediately fired at twice without effect. He ran and was shot by La Point just as he was running up the step to the sidewalk in front of the International Hotel. La Point was immediately arrested by Sheriff Lamb and lodged in jail. Flynn was taken to the office of Dr. Bishop and his wound examined, but his physicians were unable to find the ball. He was then removed to a room over Jas. Chambers' saloon, where his iron constitution was compelled to slowly and sadly give way under the effects of his fatal wound. During his sickness his wife proved most devoted to him and watched over him with all kindness and self denial.

This morning a post mortem examination was held at the undertaker's by Drs. Dawson, Johnson, Snow, Hutchins and Bishop, Dr. Dawson using the knife. From this examination it was ascertained that Flynn was shot near the lowest bone of the spinal column; that the ball ranged slightly upwards and forward and imbedded itself in the anterior inferior spinous process of the Illium, or the back part of the socket of the thigh bone. The ball only injured the nerves and tissues in its path and caused a sympathetic inflammation of the adjoining parts. Peritoneal inflammation set in shortly after his being shot, but afterwards almost totally subsided. The tissues were badly decomposed and a large soas abscess formed; further, there was a very severe shock to the nerves, which nervous exhaustion largely contributed to his death. The ball as lodged in the Illium could not have been extracted while Flynn was alive and did no damage where it was. But the wound which it inflicted produced the effects we have spoken of which caused his death.

The facts of the shooting will, of course, come out on the trial. We have nothing to do with them at this time.

Jottings.

We stepped into a county office today and two big men talked about throwing reporters out of second story windows, etc. We suddenly became very scarce about then. A brave body but those legs have a powerful effect over it.

Barlow broke the Sabbath last Sunday but he went out of Reno to do so. He came back on the lightning express from Virginia City with a new hat and a prisoner charged with having committed larceny at Peavine.

The Good Templars will give a social on Monday evening next at Reno Opera house. Dancing commences at 8 and closes at 12. Tickets $1.00.

"Ye Olden Folke" have tuned up, and will warble to-night at the Opera House. The entertainment is well worthy of patronage.

Sol Geller, the King of rangers and mutton raisers is in town. He goes in for reform now.

Aitken's dray, while loaded with flour, broke through the crust to-day and was just going out of sight when he managed to stop it. The load was removed and the dray extricated. Teams which are heavily loaded would do well to keep the beaten track.

Next Thursday evening the little German Band will show what virtue there is in brass.

Read what "Eph" has to say about the Legislature.

If your water pipe freezes up, look where the ground is dry. Such is the experience of several householders.

Our local will be present at the Old Folks obsequies this evening. He has heard of the lunch and says: "Wherever baked beans are gathered together there will I be in the midst of them."

L. E. Doan, of the Boca Brewery, was in town last night, and reports something "brewing" in Boca.

R. S. Caldwell, agent for Chapin's Nurseries, starts out on his travels again to-morrow.

Mr. H. Myers, formerly of Carson, will soon open a cigar store in the room lately occupied by Jones & Co. Meyers promises good cigars at low rates.

R. C. Johnson gets off a little speech to his debtors. Those who are in any wise concerned should peruse it.

The Infant Mining Company publishes to-day its Delinquent list. Pyramid can not, just yet, work her mines without an occasional "Irish dividend."

Frank La Point gave himself up this morning and was lodged in jail.

OLD FOLKS' CONCERT.—This evening the old folks concert will successfully operate at the Opera House. After the circus the tables will appear on the tapis loaded with the luxuries of the season. An additional 50 cents will be required for this part of the performance. To-morrow at noon another lunch will be spread and 50 cts. received for ones familiarity with the eatables. In the evening an entirely new programme will be presented, but no additional charge will be made at the door. The whole affair threatens to be a success and quite interesting. The church stands greatly in need of funds and has taken this very commendable way to replenish her exchequer. The concert should be well attended.

ECONOMY.—The Journal of this morning advises the Trustees of the A. M. & M. Society to economize and reduce the Secretary's salary. The suggestion in regard to economy is good, but the hit at the Secretary has too much motive in it. The Journal has forgotten the time when it charged the society $150 for publishing its advertisement one week.

Spiced Roll Bacon and Dried Beef at Coggeshall & Co's.

INQUEST.—A jury was impaneled this afternoon by Coroner Haslund to hold an inquest upon the remains of Daniel H. Flynn. The jury are viewing the body as we go to press, and will meet for the examination of witnesses to-morrow 10 o'clock A. M.

PRICES REDUCED.—Mr. P. Schwartz who has a barber shop at the International Hotel, has made a reduction of 100 per cent. on the old prices of barber work. He now only charges 25 cents each, for hair cutting, shaving and shampooing. Dyeing, etc., same price as before. Give him a call and keep the prices down.

ALL who were indebted to the Reno Lumber Co. previous to Jan. 1st, 1877, are hereby notified to call and settle their accounts on or before February 1st, 1877. All accounts not settled at that date will be otherwise collected. J. S. RENO LUMBER CO.

HONEY LAKE APPLES.—J. N. Jaquith has now on hand 800 boxes of the celebrated Honey Lake apples. The established reputation of this fruit is entirely sufficient to warrant its quality. For sale by the box cheap for cash. J. N. JAQUITH, Commercial Row, 1-31f.

HOUSE WANTED.—A small family want to rent a house containing four or five rooms, thrashed or unfurnished. Leave terms at this office or at the Wine House of B. Chelovich & Co., Commercial Row. 2-5-1w HOMEOPATHY.—Dr. R. H. Chase, for many years a Homeopathic Physician, now intends to make Reno his home, and announces to the public that he will treat all cases to which he may be called to attend, according to the latest and best methods in the Homeopathic practice. Office at Virginia street near the Reno Library. 7-27f.

WANTED.—A small house, furnished or unfurnished, near the Reno Gas Works. Leave address at this office. 1-41f

A large assortment of Ladies' fine Slippers and children's fine Shoes at John Sunderland's.

NEW STORE.—Yankee Dodge is again to the front. He is well aware of the hard times and knows that Reno wants goods sold at the lowest rates and for Cash. Hence Dodge has opened a store next door to Pollard's Hotel, on Commercial Row, where he will keep on hand a general variety of Yankee notions, such as Soap, Perfumery, Hose, Ladies and Gents Underwear, Towels, and Counterpanes, Buggy Robes, Horse Blankets, Whips, etc., etc. He has a well assorted stock of Goods which he will sell cheaper than anybody. Call and examine them. 3-27f.

SHAVING PARLORS.—Messrs. Morris & Frankfield take this method of announcing to their friends and the public in general, that they have opened a new and elegant hair dressing room, on Virginia street, fronting Budden's photograph gallery. Everything is new, neat and clean, including the very latest improved Rochester Barber Chairs, the only ones to be found in Reno. Everything necessary to be had to insure the comfort and pleasure of customers have been provided. Shaving, Hair Cutting, Shampooing and Dyeing done in a practical and workmanlike manner. All kinds of Hair Tonics and Hair Restoratives always on hand. Ladies and children's hair cutting and shampooing a specialty. MARK H. MORRIS, H. H. FRANKFIELD. 1-15f

AGENT.—W. J. Marsh has been authorized by the well known musical firm of Sherman & Hyde, to effect sales for all their instruments on any terms given at their house, including the Weber, Sherman & Hyde and Cottage ten Pianos, and Standard Organs. He will sell any of these instruments on such easy installments that everybody can buy with a little effort. 1-81f

An Accommodating Hotel Clerk.

Scene I—French's hotel. Time, midday. Fat hotel clerk, smiling, and brushing his diamond stud with a feather. Enter young man in a hurry. He writes on the hotel register: "John Green, Harrisburg, Pa."

Young man—I shall take a room this evening. Some bundles may be sent here for me this afternoon. If the charges are not more than $5 pay them.

Exit young man in a hurry. Clerk stiffly bows and continues to brush his diamond stud with a feather.

Scene II—Time, one hour later. Enter a small boy with heavy oblong package. He struggles up to counter and says: "A bundle for Mr. Green. The charges are $3.50."

Clerk drops the feather and permits the diamond stud to dazzle the small boy's eyes. Then he takes the bundle and pays the small boy $3.50.

Scene III—Time, the following day. Fat clerk scratches his head with the feather and thinks of Mr. Green and the small boy and the $3.50. Then he opens the oblong package and discovers a brickbat in a paper box, with a note saying: "This is the best Russian clay I could find." Clerk exclaims "Godelmitz," and the proprietor of the hotel debits him with $3.50.—N. Y. Sun.

A SCHOOL BOY ON CORNS.—Corns are of two kinds—vegetable and animal. Vegetable corn grows in rows; animal corn grows on toes. There are several kinds of corn; there is the unicorn, capricorn and corn dodgers, field corn and the corn which is the corn you feel the most. It is said, I believe, that gophers like corn; but persons having corn do not like to "go fur," if they can help it. Corns have kernels and some colonels have corns. Vegetable corn grows on ears, but animal corn grows on the feet of the other end of the body. Another kind of corn is the acorn; those kind grow on oaks, but there is no hoax about the corn. The acorn is a corn with the indefinite article indeed. Try it, and see. Many a man when he has a corn wishes it was an acorn. Folks that have corns sometimes send for a doctor, and if the doctor himself is corned, he probably won't do so well as if he isn't. The doctor says corns are produced by tight boots and shoes, which is probably the reason why when a man is tight they say he is corned. If a farmer manages well, he can get a great deal of corn on an acre, but I know of a farmer that has one corn that makes the biggest acher on his farm. The bigger crop a man raises the better he likes it; but the bigger crop of animal corn he raises he does not like it.—Hartford Post.

The Traveling Men's Christian Association recently held a convention in Chicago. A member said that gamblers in the cars frequently inspired confidence by pretending to belong to the organization, and he thought that credentials of some kind should be issued, so that a Christian might know that his opponent in a casual game of euchre wasn't a rascal.

A Canadian minister thus advertises for a wife: "She must have talent and ability to assist in the cause, a gift to sing, ability to weigh an argument, and $3,000 in hard cash." Should he find a wife one might truly say a knave has succeeded in finding a fool.

They tell of a Burlington elder, a very explicit and conscientious man, always given to explain himself very clearly, who began his prayer last Thursday night, "Paradoxical as it may appear to Thee, oh Lord."

Men are not what they seem unless they seem foolish.
